

Newsletter

Hello Netzah family,

Welcome to our newsletter of term II, 2021. Enjoy it and send feedback and comments.

Our theme of the year is based on 1 John 4:16 "And so we know and rely on the love God has for us. God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God and God in Him." We bless the Lord for His mercies even during these difficult times, He has preserved our lives and enabled us to continue with home schooling in spite of what is going on in the country and the world.

Achievements

During the course of this term:

1. We successfully secured a license from Wakiso District Education Committee, to operate as Netzah International School.
2. More students have joined us.
3. We welcomed Tr Dianah to the team.

Important dates

Term II of our homeschooling will end on 01 October 2021 and term III will resume after a week's break, on 11 October 2021.

Let's Read Together!

"Once you learn to read, you will be forever free." Frederick Douglas.

Reading does not only teach children the world around them but also develops their imagination to be whoever they want to be. At Netzah International School, reading is fun and engaging. Below is our term's book review:

Book Title: Be Polite and Kind

Author: Cher J. Meiners, M.Ed.

This book is good for young children as it addresses the interesting topic of diversity. It shows us the various kinds of people that the children will interact with as they grow. These are parents, relatives, friends, and even strangers.

The story line is simple yet very intentional. The author brings out the different ways we can be polite and kind to everyone, which is interesting.

A very important lesson from the book is that what we do or say might affect another person in either a good way or bad way. We need to be polite so that our words build others up instead of hurting them. Therefore, this book is a good read in order to help guide the children in politeness.

Visit our library today to get your child a book such as this and more!

You can also furnish the home library so the children can develop their reading culture at a young age.

Birthday corner

We love to celebrate our own and this term more people have added another year to their age! We wish them a happy birthday and God's blessings in the years to come:

↑ Malik, 25 August

↑ Enoch, 05 September

↑ Dianah, 11 September

Student Accomplishments

There has been a lot of study and improvement for each of our students. They are daily hard at work learning their numbers, sounds, colors, shapes and so much more. Below are some other highlights:

Sweet pea: Our two-year olds have adapted quite well to the school routine. They are now able to sit through devotion time, brief story-telling sessions, and are engaging in different activities such as coloring, learning table manners, good toilet habits, among others.

Shammah: The three- and four-year-olds have become more independent, their toilet habits have improved and they are more confident about helping others. Their adventures this term included finger and feet painting, seed planting and nature walks.

Sunbeams: Did you know the amount of balance and coordination required to skip a rope? Well, our four -five year olds found out after a hard day at work making their own skip rope out of banana fiber. Now they know that one needs a lot of leg-eye coordination, balance, and stability to skip a rope! Although the first lesson was not easy, they are not fazed – and continue to work hard to master the skill. Watch this space, you will soon have master skip

Progress Reports

Progress reports for each child will be ready by 01 October 2021. We advise that each parent picks up their child's report, discuss progress and ways of working more closely with the teachers to help the child as appropriate.

Parents can visit the office from 04 - 06 October 2021 between 8:30a.m - 4:00p.m.

Reminders

As a school, we appreciate all our parents' involvement in the children's learning.

However, while the children need guidance with homework, please ensure that you do not complete it for them. They are all given age-appropriate homework and are able to do it. Independent completion of given assignments boosts confidence among the learners.

Remind them of the key good habits: tidy up after yourself, apologize when in wrong, wash hands often for example before and after meals, wash hands after using the toilet, speak up when you need to use the toilet, take turns with others, and wait in line.

Continue packing a snack and drink, and a change of clothes.

Thank you!

Thanks to all parents for your continued support. We are especially grateful to Mrs Phoebe Mugerwa for recommending us to many families.

We look forward to an even brighter future and stronger working relationship with you all throughout this year and in the many years to come.

GOD BLESS YOU!

Looking forward ...

- There are a few slots left for new students to join us in all our classes – inform your friends and relatives as these will be filled on a first come, first serve basis.

- We are eagerly waiting for the time we will go back to our school premises but in the meantime, we continue to pray that the pandemic will pass soon, as we observe the SOPs, and stay safe and healthy.
